An Important Fall on Capitol Hill for Pentagon Spending and Nuclear Weapons Policy

In September and beyond, Congress will begin making some of the most important and potentially most dangerous decisions about budget priorities and spending that our country has seen in decades. The President and many in Congress have proposed dramatically increasing Pentagon spending while imposing deep, irreversible cuts to Medicaid and SNAP. They are charting a course that lifts up bombs and billionaires over health and humanity, and that risks setting us off on dangerous and expensive new nuclear pathways. What can Quakers do?
